ESF Abacus International Kindergarten caters for children aged between three and five years of age and children attend school for three hours per day, five days per week. One class teacher and two educational assistants are responsible for each class of 24 children in our K1 and K2 classrooms. Abacus is authorised to deliver the International Baccalaureate Primary Years Programme (PYP), providing an inquiry-based and highly interactive programme. Children learn through play experiences and are encouraged to discover, experiment and reflect on their learning. Our aim at Abacus is to encourage children to become confident and independent learners. We encourage each child to reach their full potential whilst respecting themselves, others and the world around them.

Abacus offers Bilingual and English streams in both K1 and K2.

Bilingual

The Bilingual programme is jointly planned and delivered by an English and Chinese teacher working as a class team. Children receive instruction in both languages and all areas of the curriculum are delivered in both languages with the exception of English and Chinese languages. Children attending the bilingual class experience differentiated sessions in English language and Chinese language, to ensure their differing ability levels are catered for.

English

The programme is conducted in English with Chinese as an additional specialist language. The children are introduced to Chinese vocabulary and learn about Chinese customs and festivals through games, songs and stories.

ESF Jockey Club Sarah Roe School (JCSRS) is the only English-medium school in Hong Kong that caters for learners with individual needs. The school supports students with a wide range of needs including moderate and severe or complex learning disabilities and students with autism. The age range is from 5 to 19 years.

Our experienced teachers and therapists design learning experiences that develop skills, values and behaviours around our six global competencies. All students have Individual Educational Plans (IEPs) that are co-constructed with families to support learning strengths in addition to short and long term aspirations. IEPs are planned around five dimensions: Thinking and Learning, Communication, Personal and Social, Physical and Sensory and Independence. The curriculum is designed to address all of these areas in a holistic and multidisciplinary way. Therapy is an integral part of student learning and development and is embedded into the curriculum.

JCSRS mission statement: Everyone Happy, Everyone Engaged, Everyone Learning is reflected in the highly differentiated curriculum pathways that are adaptive to the needs of all learners in our school. Learning is designed to be engaging and enabling all to thrive, and where appropriate, support students to make transition into mainstream education through collaborative ACCESS programmes.
